

Las Vegas, NV (April 22, 2009) — DV magazine, published by NewBay Media, announced its 2009 Black Diamond Awards today at the NAB Show. The Black Diamond Awards recognize the best products making their debut at the NAB Show, specifically those that will appeal to our readership of independent video professionals.

NewBay Media's Broadcast & Video Group of products, which also includes DV.com, Digital Video Expo, Videography magazine, videography.com, and the Creative Planet Communities, is uniquely poised to recognize the full spectrum video technology. A select panel of engineers, editors and production and post professionals joined the magazine staff to judge the Black Diamond Awards for DV.
